

GENERAL VILLA
TAKES TORREONSeries of Bloody Battles End in Rebel Success.

FEDERAL LOSS IS ENORMOUS

Victorious Insurgent Commander Estimates the Enemy's Losses at Twelve Thousand Killed, Wounded and Captured—Rebel Casualties Are Placed at Fifteen Hundred Killed and Wounded.

Juarez, Mex., April 3.—Torreón fell into the hands of the rebels, according to announcement made here by General Venustiano Carranza.

The news was first announced when the bugler in front of Carranza's residence blew the staccato notes of victory. The pean, Carranza said, was sounded here even before it was heard in Torreón, Villa delaying out of compliment to his chief.

The meager bulletins excitedly announcing victory after the bloodiest series of battles known to modern Mexico said that Villa captured a large number of prisoners and that the fleeing remnant was being pursued.

Whether Velasco, the federal commander, was captured was not stated. There was heavy fighting, it is understood, and the end came when, after capturing the three remaining barracks held in the city by the federales, the rebels stormed the trenches and barred wire entanglements of Canyon de Guadalupe.

Troops in Canyon Escape. The prisoners captured are believed to have been the defenders of the barracks, while the troops in the canyon which forms an egress from the hill-girt city were able to fly.

The campaign against the federal stronghold of Torreón, the main object of the rebel campaign, began suddenly two weeks ago, after General Villa had spent months in making the most careful preparations.

The rebel loss in the campaign is said to be well over 2,000 in killed and wounded. Trains loaded with the latter have been arriving daily at Chihuahua for the last week.

The rebel commander moved with a rapidity hitherto unknown in Mexican warfare. He worked his men in shifts and as one shift became exhausted he sent fresh hosts against the enemy.

A number of small towns of lesser importance in a military sense fell first—Mapimi, Noe and Sacramento, where a bloody battle was fought. This opened a path for the main attack.

Next came Lerdo and Gomez Palacio, populous suburb of Torreón, and all three connected by a belt street car line. Lerdo was not defended, but it took three main assaults, in which the rebels lost heavily, to take Gomez Palacio.

Necessary to Retake Lerdo. In the final attack upon the city troops were withdrawn from Lerdo, whereupon the federales occupied it, and another sanguinary conflict was necessitated to retake it.

When the bugle call of victory came Mexicans recognized it in a flash and the streets became thronged instantly. Out of the dives, saloons and gambling halls the crowd rushed until they were empty, and the throngs stormed up the street to Carranza's residence.

Again and again the bugler sounded the call and a great wave of cheering arose.

The electric lights strong about the Carranza residence last Sunday to welcome him were turned on, lighting up the draped and festooned red, white and green of the Mexican national colors.

"Viva Carranza!" "Viva Villa!" "Viva Madero!" "Viva Mexico!" came the shrill, hysterical cries of the crowd.

General Villa's telegram said that the last remnant of the federal army took flight. He reported that his losses will number 1,500 killed and wounded. The federal loss in killed, wounded and prisoners will be fully 12,000, he said.

FIND MAN AND WIFE DEAD

Philadelphia Husband Kills Spouse and Himself.

Philadelphia, April 3.—Hearing four revolver shots in quick succession a policeman and a night watchman broke into a house in West Philadelphia and found Alexander Glaser, thirty years old, and his wife, Julia, twenty-eight years, dead from bullet wounds. In the house they also found crying the couple's two sons, six and eight years old, unharmed. Neighbors said the husband feared he was going blind and the police believe that this disarranged his mind and led him to kill his wife and himself.

New Orleans Papers Merge.

New Orleans, April 3.—The Times-Democrat and the Picayune, two of the oldest morning newspapers in the United States, will be consolidated, according to announcement here. The consolidated papers will be published as the Times-Picayune. The Picayune has been published continuously for seventy-eight years.

SEALERS PERISH
ON ICE FLOESSteamer Newfoundland Loses
Sixty-four of Crew.

OTHERS MAY BE CRIPPLED

Victims Were Far From Their Ships Killing Seals When Blinding Snow Storm Suddenly Swoops Down Upon Them and They Are Exposed to the Bitter Elements for Forty-eight Hours.

St. Johns, N. F., April 3.—Death traveled in a gale that overtook the sealing fleets last Tuesday. The steamer Newfoundland lost sixty-four of her crew, while thirty-seven more, it is feared, will be saved as a result of exposure.

The men lost were far from their ships killing seals, when the storm, with blinding snow, swooped down upon them. They were exposed for forty-eight hours before assistance arrived and in that time many succumbed.

The Newfoundland was one of a fleet of fifteen ships, carrying more than two thousand men, scattered among the ice floes near Belle Isle strait. The crews were on the ice hunting seal, which have their homes on these crystal plains, and the hunt had taken them from four to six miles from their ships.

When the blizzard came the crews of the other steamers managed to regain their vessels, but the floes on which the Newfoundland's men were hunting drifted away from the main body of ice and when darkness fell that night not one had returned. The ship's crew numbered 150 men, of whom 120 were on the ice. Captain Wesley Kean, his officers, engineers, stokers and cooks remained aboard.

When the weather cleared Captain Kean signaled the steamers Bellaventure and Stephano, which were nearest him, of the loss of his men. These two vessels, being fast and powerful, smashed their way into the floes in search of the missing men.

The Bellaventure picked up fifty-eight dead and thirty-five living, the Stephano one dead and two living, and the Florizel five dead.

The Grenfell Seamen's Institute has been converted into an emergency hospital. The whole contingent of naval reservists on the British drill ship Calypso has been ordered out for ambulance duty and coffins are being hurriedly constructed. All the fishermen are from the coast.

TWO DEAD IN GUN FIGHT

Laborer Shoots Police Honor Man and Is Slain by Lieutenant.

New York, April 3.—A triple shooting affray on the upper East Side cost the lives of Joseph Guarneri, an honor man of the police department, and William Horgan, a laborer, who had concealed himself in a friend's home after shooting down a grand jury witness who had testified against Horgan's son, an alleged gangster. Charles Moser, a saloon keeper, the elder Horgan's first victim, is in a hospital with a bullet wound in his shoulder. Horgan killed Guarneri, who tried to arrest him, and was shot dead by a police lieutenant.

GAMBLING HOUSE HELD UP

Masked Men Secure $3,000 in New York City.

New York, April 3.—Five armed and masked robbers, who raided the Merchants' club, a private poker game, are credited with having made the biggest haul of any stickup party in New York in many years.

Five men were playing in "Beans" Rosenfield's place. The robbers entered quietly, tied and gagged the doorman, stood the gamblers along the wall, and then, all with guns prominently displayed, robbed the keeper of the "bank roll" and a $500 ring.

Then every player was searched and loot estimated at another $3,000 was secured.

COMMODORE G. L. DYER DIES

Winter Park, Fla., April 3.—Commodore George L. Dyer, U. S. N., retired, who commanded the gunboat Stranger during the war with Spain and later was appointed first governor of Guam, died of heart failure at his home here. He was sixty-four years old and was retired in 1908.

MISSIONARY EDITOR DIES

Rev. E. E. Strong, Widely Known as Statistician and Expert.

Boston, April 3.—Rev. Elnathan E. Strong, D. D., for twenty-five years editor of the Missionary Herald, died in his eighty-second year. In his long association with the American board of commissioners for foreign missions he became widely known as a statistician.

Washington, April 3.—James L. Davenport, commissioner of pensions from 1909 to 1913, died at his home in West Falls Church, Va., near here, of a complication of diseases. He was connected with the bureau of pensions here in various capacities for thirty-two years.

JOHN LIND SAILS
FROM VERA CRUZPresident's Special Envoy to Mexico Coming Home.

Washington, April 3.—John Lind, former governor of Minnesota and for the past eight months the personal representative in Mexico of the president of the United States, sailed from Vera Cruz for Washington aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower.

The announcement of Mr. Lind's prospective visit was made by President Wilson with the explanation that his envoy had requested a vacation and rest from labor.

It is no secret in Washington that Mr. Lind has for a long time been anxious to get back to the United States. During his prolonged isolation at Vera Cruz he has acquired a thorough knowledge of the situation in Mexico and it is understood that many of his conclusions are not those of the president and Secretary Bryan. There has not been any friction between Mr. Lind and his chief, however.

The president declared that Mr. Lind's departure for the United States should not be construed as in the nature of a recall or as forecasting any change of policy by the Washington government toward either faction in Mexico.

PROMPT ACTION EXPECTED

Senate Committee May Not Delay
Tolls Repeal Bill.

Washington, April 3.—Administration leaders in the senate buckled on their armor and plunged actively into the Panama tolls fight, determined to maintain an unyielding position until the end of the controversy. Though the house bill to repeal toll exemption for American ships is resting in the committee on interoceanic canals there were many informal conferences relating to the issue. Among the developments was a visit of Secretary of State Bryan at the Capitol in the interest of the administration policy.

"No compromise" was the slogan of the administration leaders in their conferences.

President Wilson told inquirers that he expected no factional delay or filibustering. He expects a prompt report from the senate committee.

LUMBERMAN MUCH BETTER

Recovery of Frederick Weyerhaeuser Is Certain.

Pasadena, Cal., April 3.—It was reported from the home that Frederick Weyerhaeuser had so far recovered from the serious illness which for more than ten days has threatened his life that his physicians and the members of his family feel permanent recovery is certain.

During the last two days and nights the aged millionaire has waged a winning fight against pneumonia.

GOSSIP CAUSES SUICIDE

Mother of Eleven Drank Paris Green Because Tired of Life.

Davenport, Ia., April 3.—Tormented by gossiping neighbors Mrs. Carl Siebek of Walcott, sixty-four years old and mother of eleven children, drank a cupful of paris green and died shortly afterwards.

"I am tired of life," she moaned, as her children surrounded her deathbed. The woman's nervous system was wrecked by tales of village scandal mongers.

WESTERN STATES
FACE PROBLEMSRepresentatives Anxious to Settle the Vexing Questions.

DEVELOPMENT IS RETARDED.

No Taxes or Other Revenue Derived From Vast Lands Owned by the Government—Wilson Has No Kitchen Cabinet, but Kitchenette Advisers Keep Busy—Texans Busy in House.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 3.—[Special.]—That the west has its trouble is shown by important legislation which is pending:

"If the western men would get together and the rest of the country would let us settle some of our questions, just as New York and New England have settled their questions, we would evolve something satisfactory." So said Senator Sutherland of Utah, commenting upon the several bills relating to coal lands, radium and the disposition of lands in Alaska.

Sensor Shafroth of Colorado has pointed out that all the public lands in western states are not taxable, which makes a burden for the tax paying people of the states. Senator Borah of Idaho often breaks in with his complaint that the large forest reservations are virtually independent governments within the states and are retarding the development of those states.

If the western questions should be settled it would save a lot of time in congress, but these western questions include conservation, waterpower and all of the many complex matters that have arisen in the name of conservation. It will take some time to settle them.

Are These Political Straws?

One day Senator Chamberlain, a Democrat, commended the Americanism and courage of Theodore Roosevelt. On the same day William Alden Smith, a Republican, said something of a like nature. The query naturally arises whether the political straws which show the direction of the wind floated through the senate that day. Senator Smith quoted Mr. Roosevelt as favoring American control of the coastwise tolls question. Senator Lodge exhibited intense surprise and questioned the accuracy of any such statement. Lodge was pretty close to Roosevelt during his entire administration, but occasionally the president said things which did not have the approval of the Massachusetts senator.

Kitchenette Cabinets.

We have often heard of kitchen cabinets in connection with administrations. Nearly every administration has one. One can readily see that there is no such attachment to the Wilson administration, but there are little circles, councils, boards of strategy and smaller organizations which may be called kitchenette cabinets that meet from time to time in Washington and formulate theories, plans and suggestions to be carried to the president if any of the kitchenettes should ever see him. It is not likely that these suggestions would have much weight with the president.

Conspicuous Texans.

Texas has made herself rather conspicuous in the house of late by reason of the fact that Congressman Callaway injected himself so frequently into the river and harbor debate and Congressman Dies has been in the pension debates and Congressman Henry fought for the rule to rush the Panama canal repeal bill. Callaway has earned quite a reputation for his bright repartee while fencing with the various members of the rivers and harbors committee. It is not difficult, however, to have fun with a river and harbor bill if a man is a ready talker.

Explaining River Conditions.

Discussing appropriation for a river in the south, Congressman Murdock, the Progressive leader, asked: "Why is it called the Little Pee Dee and the Lumber river? Why does a little river like that have to have two names?"

"It is called the Lumber river in North Carolina and the Little Pee Dee in South Carolina," explained Congressman Ragsdale of South Carolina.

"I should think that river should get together," remarked Murdock.

"That river," retorted Ragsdale, "is in the exact condition of the Republican and Progressive parties—they can't get together."

Martine, Optimist.

It is a real pity that Hale of Maine could not have remained in the senate long enough to encounter Senator Martine of New Jersey. Hale exuded gloom. He was more than pessimistic. He constantly issued danger signals. He was a real signpost of woe. Senator Gallinger has been a bit inclined to see the worst side of things, particularly about Democratic legislation, but Martine butts in with optimism of the most pronounced kind.

One day, when the New Hampshire senator pointed out how the tariff had not reduced the cost of living and said the currency bill might produce disaster, the New Jersey man said, "Now, in heaven's name do not utter this horrid cry of desolation, murder, sadness and woe, but join in the cry of fraternity and keep up with the march of the times!"

TAX ON COTTON FUTURES

South Carolina Representative Introduces Bill.

Washington, April 3.—A prohibitive tax on dealings in cotton futures which violate certain regulations promulgated for the reform of the trading on exchanges, was proposed in a bill by Representative Lever of South Carolina. The bill was offered as a compromise for the senate bill denying use of the mails to exchanges engaged in forbidden transactions.

Representative Lever said his bill had been drafted after conference with Secretary Houston and had his approval.

SAYS BAILIFF KEPT
SUPPLY OF LIQUORTwo Jurors Testify in Alleged Bribery Hearing.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 3.—That J. A. Sullivan, bailiff in charge of the McLain Cooper jury during the trial for murder, conducted a veritable blind pig in the Hotel Northern, headquarters of the jurors, was testified by two jurors, Martin Johnson and Edwin Johnson, in the preliminary hearings of J. C. Mabon and Tracy Banks, accused of complicity in jury bribing.

That there was a constant supply of liquor about the jurors' quarters was maintained by both, but Edwin Johnson insisted that he paid Sullivan for all the liquor he ordered. Several drinks that he had with Sullivan, he said, were not paid for. Martin Johnson said he paid for much of the liquor he received, but that there was some for which he did not pay.

Martin Johnson was the last of the jurors to agree to a verdict of acquittal. On the last night of consideration he said he received a drink of whiskey and a bottle of beer from Sullivan at the courthouse. Sullivan, he said, urged him to agree to a verdict of acquittal. Other jurors, Martin Johnson testified, headed off attempts to ask Judge Templeton for additional instructions.

Chicago, April 3.—A plan not dissimilar from the "stay after school" rule of country educational institutions was announced by Chief of Police Gleason for policemen who broke some of the minor regulations of the department.

"Instead of fining the offender fifteen or twenty days' pay," said the chief, "he will be made to work overtime without extra pay."

The report that Mr. Asquith would be opposed by James Larkin, head of the Transport Workers' union, also has fallen flat, so that the premier will be nominated alone and elected April 8.

Eleven Other Cities Secure Reserve Institutions.

COVERS ENTIRE NORTHWEST

Financial Institution at Minneapolis Has Capital of Nearly Five Million Dollars and Includes Minnesota, Montana, North and South Dakota and Part of Wisconsin and Michigan.

Washington, April 3.—The Northwest was given a regional bank and Minneapolis was selected as the federal reserve city under the authority of the new banking and currency law. Eleven other cities, located in different sections, also were named as federal reserve centers.

The other cities selected are: New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cleveland, Richmond, Atlanta, Dallas, Tex., San Francisco, Kansas City and St. Louis.

Minneapolis is designated as the federal reserve city for district No. 3. Capital, $4,702,864, with 687 national banks, etc. Territory: Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, all of Wisconsin and all of Michigan, all of district 7.

The area in square miles of the Northwestern district is 437,930, with a population of 5,724,893. There will be at least 7,548 banks of all sorts members of the system with total capital and surplus of $1,831,648, 369. Their 6 per cent subscription would amount to $109,858,962, according to the committee's figures.

The organization committee was not authorized by law to provide for branch banks of the federal reserve banks, but the act specifically states that such banks shall be established. This task will be left to the supervision of the federal reserve board, yet to be appointed by President Wilson. The organization committee announced that all information it has collected since it began its work last December shall be placed at the disposal of the banks and the board when the establishment of branch banks is considered.

One Bank on Pacific Coast.

In its announcement the committee called attention to the fact that under the requirements of the act it could not find grounds for the establishment of more than one bank on the Pacific coast, but held out the hope that in the near future another bank would be authorized by congress and located somewhere in this section.

The next step to be taken by the organization committee will be the notification to banks entering the system of the plans for the districts. This notification will follow the formal certification of the committee's action to the comptroller of the currency. Within thirty days after such notice is received by banks each must begin the payment for its stock in the reserve bank in its district.

The payment of subscriptions by banks will be spread over many months, but in the meantime President Wilson is expected to announce the five members of the federal reserve board. The president said that as the process of organization will take some time no immediate announcement will be made. He said an announcement may not be made for at least a month.

The rivalry between many cities for reserve banks was intense and the committee's decision probably may be followed by protests and attempts to change the plan. Under the law the decision is not subject to revision except by the federal reserve board.

Some of the cities in the race for banks which were not selected were St. Paul, Baltimore, Washington, Birmingham, Ala.; New Orleans, Cincinnati, Louisville, Omaha, Denver, Houston, Tex.; Seattle, Portland, Ore., and Los Angeles.

ST. PAUL GETS EXCHANGE

Farmers and Business Men Agree on Main Details.

St. Paul, April 3.—St. Paul will be the new home of the Equity Farmers' Co-operative exchange. Agreement on all but minor details was reached by the committee of the Association of Commerce and representatives of the exchange. The Equity delegates left for Fargo, N. D., where a meeting of the board of directors will be called to make preparations for moving the exchange from Minneapolis.

About ten days will be required for settling questions relating to elevator and switching facilities and auditing the accounts of the exchange, according to Samuel Dittenhoefer, chairman of the Association of Commerce committee. He said that within sixty days the co-operative institution will be quartered here.

Reported by Theodore Miller, observer at Brainerd.

April 2, maximum 42.
April 3, minimum 23.

In St. Louis gasoline has been reduced to 13 cents because of a fight between rival oil companies. The auto owners are laying in a supply and smiling.

John Lind is on his way back to the United States, and the statement is sent out from Washington that he has not been recalled, but is coming home to regain his health which has been impaired.

Aitken and Carlton county politicians are trying to get together on a senatorial proposition. If they can eliminate all but C. H. Warner he will give the district the best service they can get.

The Bull Moose party are going to go it alone at the coming election and will put up a candidate for governor, and Ole Sagong, the populist party of the state, is most in favor. The identity of the populist party in Minnesota will be entirely lost in this event. As Frank Day was not at the democratic elimination convention it is just possible that he is going to try and make good his statement that the editorial in the Duluth Herald would make Ole governor—even if not a democratic governor.

Farley Dare has decided to heed the call of his fellow citizens of Cass and become a candidate for the house from that district, and we predict that he will be one of the most popular members of the next legislature, for his election is assured. With Dare of Walker, Willson of Bemidji and Scheers of Akeley as members of the next law making session the interests of the newspaper men of the state ought to be well looked after, and in addition the whole northwest will know that Northern Minnesota has some live wires.

One million pine seedlings will be planted this spring as soon as weather conditions will permit. The state forest service has carried on extensive experiments for four years at Cloquet, and this is the first extensive venture at reforestation in the state. These seedlings will be planted on cut-over and burned-over sections, one thousand to the acre, and the Pillsbury state forest, west of Gull lake, will receive its quota. At the end of fifteen years, the trees will have attained a height of twenty feet, with a diameter breast high of four inches. At this age they will have to be thinned, and the trees thinned out can be used as cordwood or lagging in the mines, and from this on a continual revenue can be obtained. In sixty years, the seedlings will have attained saw-log size.

SUCCESSFUL BANQUET HELD

M. C. A. Building the Scene of a Banquet Commemorating Close of An Active Year

EDWARD CRUST, TOASTMASTER

resident Crust and General Secretary Daniel T. Lawrence Praised For Good Work Done

The close of a successful membership campaign was made the occasion of a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last night and the affair was largely attended and was gratifying to the interest it aroused and furthermore, was found to be out of the ordinary, for it marked the close of a membership campaign which now puts the membership of the association at 517.

Edward Crust, president, and Daniel T. Lawrence, general secretary, received praise from the various speakers for the good work they had accomplished, and in this work of extension, of increasing the membership, of collecting moneys and financing the association they were ably backed up by the other officers, the board of directors and the membership at large.

General Secretary Lawrence, in giving his annual report, gave some vital figures showing the growth of the association. On April 1, 1911 there were 247 members; April 1912, 311; April 1913, 399; April 1914, 517. The finances are in very good shape. Repairs to the extent of $55.15 have been paid for from the current receipts.

In the election of the board of directors, occurring after the banquet, were elected B. J. Broady, Dr. Joseph Nicholson, D. E. Whitney, G. K. Koes and C. D. McKay.

At the banquet Edward Crust presided and he embellished his various introductions and remarks with sallies which caused some merriment.

"This is our fifth anniversary meeting since our last reorganization," said Mr. Crust. "At the start we were financially embarrassed. We dared not breathe at first. Now we can breathe and eat too."

Rev. E. E. Satterlee praised the M. C. A. and its work, and favored a larger gymnasium. Rev. R. E. Satterlee, Rev. W. J. Lowrie, and others spoke of the general secretary, and complimented the board of directors on the choice they had made.

In response Mr. Crust said: "A little education in the blacksmith shops would fit a man for any position." Mr. Lawrence has made a greater success than any of the preceding secretaries who had made Y. M. C. A. work their life study.

George D. LaBar, treasurer of the association referred to the reorganization of the association and said the last one had been the most permanent and beneficial. He congratulated the association as a whole on the success it had achieved, and also especially complimented President Crust and Secretary Lawrence.

Mr. Martin, assistant evangelist, spoke. To A. P. Riggs, one of the oldest members of the association, he presented a life membership, Secretary Lawrence making the presentation speech, and to which Mr. Riggs responded in appropriate words.

Dr. Joseph Nicholson spoke of the changed spirit prevailing in Brainerd, of the growth of institutions like the Brainerd Musical club, Chautauqua, Y. M. C. A., the Sunday schools, etc., all signifying an intellectual awakening, a bigger and a better Brainerd. "The intellectual development has been for the betterment of the young men. The young men will demand a larger and better Y. M. C. A." He complimented the playing of the Y. M. C. A. orchestra which played several selections before the banquet.

BRAINERD WARNED AGAINST FAKER

Special to Dispatch:

Little Falls, Minn., April 3—A woman has been here several days selling a sanitary appliance to young school children, stating it was endorsed by the school board and that the use of the same had been ordered by the board. No such authority had been given by the Little Falls school board. Before steps could be taken against the faker, she had left town and may be on her way to Brainerd.

R. K. Whiteley spoke. George H. Gardner said the work of the Y. M. C. A. was excellent and we should strive to house it in a larger building. The growth of the Y. M. C. A. was commensurate with the growth of Brainerd. The time to commence the agitation for a larger and better building was now.

County Attorney G. S. Swanson complimented the association on securing not only young men, but in making it so attractive that many of the older men had joined too. He believed the city was on the threshold of its greatest growth and a larger building was an imperative necessity.

Attorney Benjamin Marcus gave a short address and took a survey of the speakers who had preceded him. He referred to the necessity of a new building. "Start something," said Mr. Marcus emphatically. "The expression of a wish never accomplished anything. It takes action. Business men and others have found that the Y. M. C. A. is one of the best methods to conserve the efficiency of men, to make them cleaner, better and abler men."

John Leak spoke. The banquet was served by the young men and was a most satisfying and well cooked meal. The rooms were prettily decorated.

Special to Dispatch:

Crazed with liquor, a young Indian near Nevis is said to have seized a double barreled shotgun after quarreling with his father, and aiming the weapon at the old man, the son discharged both barrels and shattered the head of his parent.

E. Davis, charged with selling the Indian liquor, was also taken to Ferguson Falls, both being handcuffed together. They were bound over to the May term of the federal court.

LOOKS FOR AN APPEAL

Whitney Says Gas Plant Contemplated for Brainerd Will Cost from $100,000 to $125,000

The St. Cloud Journal Press quotes A. G. Whitney regarding the recent decision in the gas plant matter as follows:

"A. G. Whitney of this city, president of the Light and Power company in speaking of the matter said that the decision was just as he expected it to be but said nothing in regard to the erection of the plant would be done for several weeks. "We expect" said Mr. Whitney, "that Mayor Henningson and the City Attorney of Brainerd, since they are firm in the belief that they are in the right, will not stop with the district court on so grave a matter, but will appeal to the supreme court in an effort to prove the righteousness of their stand. In view of this belief," Mr. Whitney went on, "the Light and Power Co. do not feel justified in going to any more expense than is necessary until assurance is given that the gas franchise ordinance question is entirely settled. Our opinion is that the decision of the district court was proper and we believe that the supreme court will sustain and confirm the decision of the lower court. However, until this is done we will hold from doing anything definite in the way of the erection of a plant."

When asked what sort of a plant the company had in mind, Mr. Whitney replied: "Our present idea of the gas plant to be erected in Brainerd is an exact duplicate of the plant in this city, which we think as perfect as a gas plant is able to be. The capacity is sufficient to supply gas to the city without being taxed and since Brainerd is no larger than St. Cloud we think a duplication of the local plant in that city will be entirely satisfactory. The erection of such a plant will cost between $100,000 and $125,000."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Empress

Did you see "Pa and Ma Elope" at the Empress last night? If not don't miss seeing "Pa" and "Ma" getting stung again tonight, one of the most clever comedies ever put on. This series of the "Kathleen Adventures" is certainly exciting and the manager of the Empress was very sorry indeed that so many of the patrons who are following these wonderful pictures were unable to get seats last night but this series will be run again tonight and also Saturday, an entire change of program Saturday with the Kathleen pictures besides, as two nights does not seem sufficient to accommodate the Kathleen patrons.

Our "Tommy" and Irene Stanfeldt made the hit of the season last night in their "Sway" song. The petite Irene sang from the house while Tommy was in evidence on the stage—very much in evidence—and dance—say, did you ever see Tommy dance?

At the Columbia

The Columbia theatre has two real fun fests in store for its many patrons tonight and tomorrow. They want to make you laugh for one solid hour. A beautiful drama is also included entitled "Italian Love." The orchestra has planned a program that promises to chase away the blues. An interesting announcement is also made that Mary Pickford will appear here next week in the "Bishop's Carriage."

"The Traffic"

"Sterling Given a Severe Shock," is the heading given by a Sterling, Illinois paper to its review of "The Traffic," which plays at the Brainerd opera house tonight. The paper says in part:

"Sterling theater goers were shocked last night. Not by the play of 'The Traffic,' but by the awful truth of the life of a girl leads when forced to earn her way in the heart of a great city. Press agents and writers as well as moralists have sought to prepare the theater goers for the shock brought by 'The Traffic,' but in this day and age people do not prepare themselves for shocks and for this reason the shock was greater last night than had been anticipated.

"The prologue gives warning of what is to follow. As the lights flashed on and disclosed the squalid setting of a tenement room in which were found Agnes Burton and her consumptive sister, the audience gasped and ere the curtain dropped at the end of this scene the blasé theater goer sat up and took notice and tears were brought to the eyes of all as Agnes Burton fought the great fight that ended in her starting along the primrose path that her sister might have a chance for life.

The second act revealed the doomed girl and the procurer in a hotel room and this scene was so vivid and left such an impression that many shuddered and wondered if really there lives such vampires as the author sought to show.

In the third act which represented a den of iniquity perhaps some of the greatest work of all characters was displayed and Miss Sankey's battle with brothel keeper, procurer and other inmates for the rescue of her sister from the hands of vultures was indeed clever.

The battle for the soul of Agnes
